

TUESDAY AUGUST 13

PICK OF THE DAY

Kathy Burke's All Woman Channel 4, 10pm

Kathy Burke is fed up with women being pushed around and pressured to conform to an image that's not of their own making. In this three-part series she determinedly confronts those stereotypes, starting this week with the superficial notions of beauty that are ubiquitous in today's society.

Burke proves to be a winningly sympathetic interviewer as she meets former Love Island star Megan Barton Hanson (above with Burke) and hears about her disillusion with cosmetic surgery. She also meets cosmetic consultant Dr Julian De Silva to get his professional perspective on the drive towards perfection through surgery.

A winning way with words ensures Burke is always good company, whether or not you agree with what she has to say. Her sharp wit is always to the fore: 'I've always been blessed with quite a high fat backside. At least I've got one thing over Kim Kardashian that I've never had to pay for.' ★★★★★
